NATIONAL LEAGUE WOMEN VOTERS IN NOVEL CONVENTION

PARTISANSHIP LACKING AS BASIC ISSUES ARE STUDIED.

"VOTE," IS SLOGAN

Education in Intelligent Use of Ballot, Object of Organization.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1924, by the Janesville Gazette. Special Correspondence to the Janesville Gazette.

Buffalo—The strangest national convention of the year 1924 is being held here. Alongside it the republican national convention at Cleveland and the democratic national convention at New York would afford a remarkable contrast. For here are gathered delegates who are interested in principles and not in party politics. In the two major conventions the delegates are interested in men and political parties.

There is no partisanship in the National League of Women Voters. There may be attempts to pass judgment on existing controversies in congress. But the background of these controversies, the principles which are fundamental in the making of a democracy, are the whole convention may be described as a university extension course. It is by far the most intelligent effort that has yet been made in the history of the women's movement to educate the voter to the use of the ballot.

Get Them to Polls
The objective of the League of Women Voters this year is to urge 75 per cent of the eligible women voters of the nation to go to the polls. The league will not tell them how to vote, what party or candidate to support.

FIGHTING FLEET SADLY DEFICIENT

Lack of Speed and Proper Repairs Scored by Admiral Coontz.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Washington—Serious deficiencies in the United States fighting fleet mobilized in southern waters last winter were reported by Admiral Robert E. Coontz, commander in chief of the navy department, in a report to the department of the navy.

Extracts from the report indicate the fleet was seriously handicapped by the low speed of the auxiliary ships that ships generally had not been kept "properly repaired" because of lack of appropriations; that 75 per cent of the older battleships had been modernized; that the modernization of machinery, elevation of turret guns and equipment with anti-aircraft defenses, and that submarine operations were the most serious deficiencies.

"All submarines are so deficient in speed as to be of small use for fleet work," Admiral Coontz reported.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION RATES RAISED

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Madison—The rate of increase in workmen's compensation insurance rates in Wisconsin was ordered today by the state compensation insurance board. The increase was announced by the board, which was created by the legislature in 1912.

The increase was made by Thomas W. Droughton, secretary of the compensation board.

Our Bill Was No Larger Than That of a Baby Chick

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Our bill for selling for Mr. Horn, of 627 Williams St., a large family of baby chicks was extremely small. Compared with ordinary bills for such services, our bill would reward you of a chick's bill when seen beside, say, a petticoat's bill.

Gazette ads are as economical as they are effective. A few words are capable of bringing in many dollars.

These range of usefulness is wide. They will send little hens or little automobiles—chicks or Ford's—flutes or piano—chairs or homes.

Writer Kills Himself in Hollywood

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Los Angeles—Robert E. Hughes, 36, magazine writer and former publicity man for William S. Hart, motion picture actor, shot and killed himself in his room at a Hollywood hotel last night. In a note left by him, he asked that his sister, Cecile Hughes of Chicago, be notified; explained that his death was "plainly suicide," identified himself as the author of 100 published and 200 unpublished short stories and two novels in course of publication; and closed by remarking that "the publishers will be grateful for this publicity."

PRESIDENT WINS DELEGATES FROM 3 MORE STATES

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Washington—President Coolidge won the delegates from three states Tuesday and added another flock of delegates to those already marked up for him.

Ohio, Massachusetts and Missouri pronounced for Coolidge. In only one state—Ohio—was there a contest, and Hiram Johnson was overwhelmingly defeated. Harry Daugherty, in a list of delegates at large, polled the lowest vote on the returns so far in.

Missouri, in convention, instructed its delegates to back Coolidge and back the candidacy of Gov. Arthur M. Hyde for vice president. There was no contest in Massachusetts, the delegation being for Coolidge without opposition. Ohio definitely clinched Hiram Johnson from the race and it is predicted that his name will not be presented to the convention in June.

James M. Cox was placed in the race, with Ohio voting for him and defeating McAdoo.

With nearly 7,000 of Ohio's 8,500 precincts unofficially reported, Coolidge had 114,069 votes, as against 22,842 for Senator Hiram Johnson. Cox's vote in the same number of precincts was 62,045 as compared to 23,574 for William Gibbs McAdoo.

VOTE EARNED INCOME TAX REDUCTIONS

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Washington—Secretary Mellon's proposal for a 25 percent reduction in the tax on earned incomes was agreed upon today by the senate, with modifications. The maximum amount of income on which the reduction could be applied was cut to $10,000 from the $20,000 allowed by the house. All incomes of $5,000 or less, however, would be considered earned for purposes of the reduction.

LEGION BACKS PUBLIC GOLF

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Public golf received another boost Tuesday night when the Richard E. Janesville post of the American Legion went on record unanimously endorsing the movement. This endorsement is of great importance to their stamp of approval on a municipal links for this city, the others being the Lakota club and the Knights of Columbus.

Seventeen members, designating they will play upon the course, have already come in from K. of C. members.

Thursday night an extremely important meeting of the Janesville Municipal Golf club, the organization formed to carry out the construction of the course and to run it, will be held. The city should be in a position to take it over, will be held. The gathering will be in the municipal court room in city hall and it is urged that all interested parties be present.

Mr. E. A. Carlson, director of public parks of Kenosha, will speak. The finance committee's plan for procuring funds without the necessity of procuring a bond for the players will be presented for consideration and adoption.

Sommerville & Root, sign painters, are now making a large booster poster for the players, which will be placed on their building on Corn Exchange, boosting public golf. They are donating the sign in order to push the movement.

M'CRAV GETS 10 YEARS AND A FINE OF $10,000

ILLINOIS "BOSS" IS NOW BIGGEST DEM IN ORGANIZATION.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Indianapolis.—Warren T. McCray, who retired today as governor of Indiana, was sentenced in federal court to serve 10 years in the Atlanta federal prison; on the charge of using the mails in furtherance of a scheme to defraud. In addition he was fined $10,000. He was found guilty Monday and presented his resignation as governor yesterday, effective at 10 a. m. today.

Emmett F. Branch of Martinsville, who has held the post of lieutenant governor, today was sworn in as governor of Indiana to succeed McCray.

McCray, according to present plans, will be taken to Atlanta at 2:30 this afternoon, along with several other prisoners who have been sentenced from the federal court.

McCray, appearing fresh and rested after a night in the Marion county jail, heard his sentence—as heavy an ever was passed on a man appearing before Judge Anderson—was a surprise to the crowd. The crowd, however, had characterized his actions throughout the year of court trials and bankruptcy hearings as "highly unusual."

The former governor was found guilty on thirteen counts of using the mails to defraud. The maximum sentence of five years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine was imposed on each count.

The sentence, however, provides that McCray shall serve the first five years and pay a fine of $10,000 for the first count. The imprisonment sentence on the remaining counts will be served concurrently, but the fine will be cumulative until the sum of $10,000 is reached.

Prior to passing sentence, Judge Anderson scathingly denounced McCray for repeated forgeries. He declared that if the prisoner "died to be as old as Methuselah, I could not mete out enough punishment." The judge also scored the state courts for not taking action against McCray.

THREATS AND BRIBERY ARE REPORTED

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Union, Illinois—Governor Parker, who fixed May 9 as the date for the election of the six Illinois judges for the murder of Dallas Charles, received several alleged "threatening" letters today threatening his life unless the lives of the six Illinois are spared.

New Orleans—Louisiana, superintendent of the New Orleans parish prison, today received a letter offering him $50,000, and Colonel Guy Molony, superintendent of the New Orleans police department, $25,000, if they would permit the escape from jail of five of the six Illinois condemned to die at Amite on May 3. Coupled with the offer was a threat, it was not accepted. The Illinois Central train on which the convicted men would be taken from New Orleans to Amite for execution would be wrecked enroute.

MANUFACTURER IS MENTIONED IN OIL PURCHASES

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Milwaukee—The name of a prominent Wisconsin manufacturer, J. J. Phoenix, chairman of the local Bradley Knitting company, was brought into a statement by E. J. Klingensmith, Port Huron, Mich., one of the men charged with using the mails to defraud.

He said Mr. Phoenix came to Port Huron to investigate the proposition and invested $50,000 in the oil company. Klingensmith said Phoenix invested another $50,000 and advised Klingensmith to stop the sale of stock, saying that he would from a Port Huron company, and subscribe $1,250,000 to put the company on a paying basis.

Klingensmith said that he took the stock off the market then he, when he heard from Phoenix that the syndicate deal was off he was forced to put the stock back on the market in an effort to salvage the concern.

No statement has been made as to the names of the sponsors of the movement but it is aimed to steer clear of the old stalwart wing.

Phoenix was a leading figure in the committee of 11 and one of the authors of the platform of 1922 on which Campbell and Morgan were defeated. One of the plans in the new organization is that self-appointed candidates and professional politicians will not be eligible.

Last night Troy was selected because, while Milwaukee men are interested, it was thought it would be better to start the organization with a group known as the Milwaukee Initiative.

A number of Milwaukee republicans will be present.

CONCRETE PAVING OPERATIONS BEGUN ON HIGHWAY 20

START MADE AT LICHTFUS FARM, 5 MILES WEST OF CITY.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Forty men on job. Use Washed Gravel This Year From Pit One Mile South.

Concrete paving operations were started by the county highway department on route 20 west of Janesville on Tuesday. The start was made at the Ernest Lichtfus farm with the pit machinery a mile away at the Albano farm on the old route 20 road.

Forty men are now working on the county force laying paving and as the work progresses this force will be increased somewhat to add speed to the paving. Difficulty is being experienced in starting owing to muddy sub-grade conditions and distance in hauling. Having plenty of equipment the county force expects to overcome the distance obstacle and the early start will enable the county to have a long run.

Gravel is Washed
All mineral aggregate is being washed this year. The gravel material is collected by a tractor and run up the conveyor to the revolving drum and plenty of water is used in washing the material. The gravel and sand comes out remarkably clean and the gravel of a uniform size.

The first five miles on the new 20 came through the winter in excellent shape, there being no cracking or rutting. This stretch is free from waves due to the improved finishing process of the county.

Detour in City
There is a detour to get out to then new road because of the construction work on Pleasant street, where sewer and water main work is being done. The detour is to city paving from the Five Points to Oak Hill avenue, Laurel avenue to Oak Hill avenue south to Pleasant street is the best route. Those desiring to go to Foxville are advised to take the old route for the cross road near Whitewater is rough.

STAUDENMAYER IS REMOVED; MORRIS NAMED SUCCESSOR

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Green Bay.—George Staudenmayer, chairman of the state legislative highway committee, was removed from office today by the committee in session here. Senator Oscar Morris of Milwaukee was chosen to succeed him.

The action of the committee followed the refusal of Mr. Staudenmayer to call a meeting of that body for a joint session with the Wisconsin highway commission as suggested by Governor Blaine, and also for his refusal to certify expenses of the committee.

There was a heavy stream of traffic on the detour road and cars were lined up on both sides for several hundred feet.

Chief L. J. Williams of the Beloit police department, Wednesday, is vacationed, but was said to have been convinced it was an accident.

Mr. Thomas and Mr. Walter are auditors from the home office of the General Motors corporation at Detroit, and have been here for some time. They live at the Chevrolet club. Mr. Ellis is with the Forster Varnish company of Milwaukee.

WITH THE FARMERS

Farm Bureau Official Information

EMERGENCY CROPS NAMED BY AGENT

Spraying Operations Start Early in May—Many Raising Soy Beans.

By H. T. GLASSCO.

The farmers are especially fortunate that the spring of 1924 came without a frost. In case a farmer needs more hay, there are special crops which will give him an abundance of good feed. One of these is the standard early high protein hay crop, Canadian, Scotch, or Wisconsin green peas may be sown with a medium maturing oats such as Swedish Select or Peckham No. 2. The standard rate of sowing in Wisconsin is 15 bushels of each. For the sake of economy, the peas may be cut down to one bushel and one peck per acre. It is usually possible to secure from 2.5 to 3.5 tons of hay per acre from this mixture.

Favor Soybeans.

Soybeans are a good emergency hay crop. Manitoba, its State of Mid West may be used. Probably the one giving the best result is the Manchurian. It is sown from May 15th to June 1st at one bushel and one peck per acre when drilled solid; one-half to one-fourth of a bushel if a corn planter is used. If planted with a corn planter the rows should not be put so close that it is impossible to cultivate them.

Soybeans, seeded solid, may be kept free from weeds by cultivating the land thoroughly before seeding the beans are from two to six inches in height. This should be done in the afternoon when the sun has slightly wilted the weeds.

Sudan Grass.

Sudan hay is practically equal to alfalfa in feeding value. It is very palatable and is a wonderful milk producer for the dairy herd. It will yield from two to three tons per acre on good land.

Sudan Grass may be used for either hay or pasture. It should be sown from May 15th to June 15th on well prepared compact soil. From 15 to 25 pounds of seed per acre sown per acre.

In case Sudan grass is to be pastured, the cattle should not be turned on it until it is 8 to 12 inches in height. The hay is equal to millet in feeding value, and is preferable as a hay crop.

Sudan grass and soybeans sown at the rate of one bushel and one peck of soybeans and 10 pounds of Sudan grass make an excellent hay mixture. It has been grown in Rock county with great success. It is both palatable and nutritious and more easily cured than soybean hay alone.

First Summer Spray.

It will soon be time to put on the first summer spray. In 1922 we began spraying the orchards on May 5, and in 1923 we began May 10. The right time for the first summer spray is when all the buds have separated in the cluster and none of them have burst into full bloom. This is called the pink spray. Arsenate of lead and lime sulphur at the rate of one pound of the former and one gallon of the latter to 40 gallons of water should be used. To get good results this first spray must be put on thoroughly and with sufficient force to cover the entire tree with a very fine spray solution. The more force used and the more thoroughly the work is done, the better will be the result. All the fruit trees should be sprayed at this time. The cherry tree will be dropping its blossoms and the other fruit trees will be in the right condition for a summer spray.

Lime sulphur and arsenate of lead may be used on all fruit trees and bushes, vines, etc., with the exception of the grape.

Looking Around!

"Just looking!" Sometimes a visitor to our store tells us this. It pleases us.

We then are aware that she is interested in knowing more about us and the goods we sell.

When people study us it does not take long to realize that our store radiates with warmth and a welcome and, too, that money has an unusual purchasing power here.

It always is a pleasure to have people come in just to look. These visits result in eventually adding new faces among our host of customers.

Hair You Envy

I offer you what brought it
By Edna Wallace Hopper

My hair is the envy of thousands who see it on the stage and elsewhere. It is heavy, silky, lustrous—far finer than 40 years ago. I have never had falling hair or dandruff, never touch of gray. Yet mine is a grandmother's age.

I owe this to a formula which French experts made for me. I have supplied it to many friends. It has brought to them what it brought to me—lustrant heads of hair. Now, by countless requests, I am placing this formula within every woman's reach. Men are also welcome to it.

Use an eye dropper
I call this formula my Hair Youth. One applies it with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. Apply just enough to dampen the scalp. This takes but a minute and it does not muss the hair.

It attacks the hardened oil and dandruff, which stifle the hair roots. It cleans the scalp, stimulates and fortifies. Then hair flourishes as flowers thrive in a well-cared garden.

Hair troubles come from stifled hair roots. Gray hair comes from lack of pigment. The way to prevent these troubles, to make hair thrive, is to cultivate the scalp. The best way science knows to do that are embodied in Hair Youth.

Worth a fortune
My Hair Youth has been worth a fortune to me. My hair is now, and always has been, my chief glory. I have so many friends who obtained like results, that I count this formula a boon which all should have. So I have placed it at every woman's call.

Edna Wallace Hopper's Hair Youth is now supplied by all druggists and toilet counters. Price, 50c and $1 with eye dropper. They also supply my Youth Cream. Also my Facial Youth—my famous liquid cleanser. Also my White Youth Clay—the best used in facial clay. My Beauty Book comes with each.

See what my Hair Youth does for your hair. You will be delighted. Then I think you will want the other helps which did so much for me. Write Wallace Hopper, 536 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago. —Advertisement.

An Open Letter to The People of Janesville and Vicinity

I know from past experience that you will be delighted to know that the wonder dog "Strongheart" will appear at the Apollo Theatre for a four-day engagement, commencing May 5th, after a year in the Northlands and the giant forests and white wind-swept wastes.

You all remember "Strongheart" in "The Silent Call," which made him famous, and this time you will see Strongheart in "The Love Master," a thrilling tale of love, romance and adventure in the land of eternal snow.

In addition to Strongheart you will see his sweetheart, Lady Julie and their 5 puppies, which will give you many a smile and many a thrill. A story peopled with figures of love and hate, courage and cowardice, and Strongheart leaping through scenes that will make you choke or cheer.

Strongheart, at this time, appears in person at the Wisconsin Theatre, Milwaukee, and we are mortifying with the owner of this dog to bring him here, during the engagement, and we have not yet come to any definite arrangements.

We will have a special children's matinee on Monday and Wednesday during this engagement, and as I always want to have all the children see this picture, I request their parents to make special effort so they will be able to see this wonder dog again. I also authorize all the teachers in the city and vicinity to issue passes to the children who could not afford to pay the admission. They may issue their passes as follows: Mr. Zankas, please pass this boy or girl. Write the name on the slip.

Prices will be, Matinee: Children, 15c and 25c; Evening, Children, 15c, Adults, 50c. Special children's matinees at 4:15 Monday and Wednesday, 10c.

Yours very truly,

JAMES ZANKAS, MGR. APOLLO THEATRE.

Expect 5,000 at
Lutheran Session

Madison — More than 5,000 persons are expected to attend the annual national convention of the Lutheran church here June 18 to 25, under arrangements being worked out by local church officials. Progress of church work during the past year and outline of activities to be carried on during the coming year will be chief considerations of the convention.

Prominent speakers from all parts of the nation will take part in the program, which has not yet been completed. It is stated, "The Ethel Lutheran church of Madison will be the host to the visiting churchmen. The Luther College concert band of Decorah, Ia., will be present during the convention to furnish musical entertainment. Other entertainment features also will be provided.

Your Own Job.
It has taken some time to fully appreciate the big asset Janesville has in Riverside's 131 acres. The call of the city manager for a thousand helpers to clean up the park ought to meet with the response it demands. Organizations in the city of every character will find this a fine thing to do. A thousand persons in squads captained and directed, will make a different place out of the park in one day. Nor should the women be overlooked in this, since women has a natural bent in the matter of cleanliness and order.

Some day we will have a legacy by some Janesville citizen who wants to leave a monument for all time, and he will build a bridge across the river connecting the east side of the city with the park. That will make the picture complete. But while that is a dream there is much rubbish to be picked up, trees to be trimmed, undergrowth to be piled and burned and the debris of a hundred parties to be removed.

That's the job for the thousand volunteers on May 3.

Every farmer who raises hogs knows the pen is mightier than the sword.

Rev. James Melrose.
The city and county and for that matter all the section of the state which is contiguous to, and looks upon Janesville as the trading, commercial and educational capital, will genuinely regret the leaving of the city by the Rev. James Melrose. He possessed those talents which gave him a high place, not alone in the pulpit but in many channels of education and higher learning. As a student and graduate in psychology he has contributed to the subject several monographs which have placed him among the leading thinkers of the time. He will find, no doubt, more congenial surroundings in an atmosphere with which he is familiar, at the University of Wisconsin. We shall expect from him in the future contributions to the bibliography of psychology such important papers and books as will establish him among the chiefest of analysts of these serious subjects.

Hungary has forbidden all newspapers and practically none are permitted to that land of the free and the home of the slaves.

Japan's Home Troubles.
Japan is having its own troubles over the American immigration bill just passed, but from a somewhat unexpected quarter. The "grave consequences" mentioned by the precipitate Mr. Hanabara, ambassador, appears to be coming, not for America, but for the incumbent Japanese government. The opposition party in Japan is using the episode as a lever to remove the present Japanese government under Premier Kiyoura. Yukio Ozaka, an opposition leader, says the present situation was brought about by the Japanese themselves and charges it as a great diplomatic blunder. America's attitude is charged, not to us so much here, but to Kiyoura who instructed Hanabara to use "language that a good diplomat should know is improper."

Evidently there is more smoke than fire in the Japanese attitude over the immigration bill. It makes little difference how the exclusion is arranged. If President Coolidge thinks it can be fed to the Japanese wrapped in another color than the one adopted by the senate and house. It will be satisfactory to the American people. The ultimate end sought is that we do not want Japanese colonization of America. What is done now should be settlement for all time of the question and not indefinite postponement. It does look however as though the supposed anger of the Nipponese was a political gesture at home rather than a sincere opposition to exclusion.

Expurgated editions of what Daugherty and Wheeler think of each other will have to be made.

A Dumping Ground of Faddists.
Fads are the thing and fashions in government administration are as frequently new as changing styles in clothes. It is a relief to hear of Governor Ritchie of Maryland, at the convention of the National League of Women Voters, declaring that the proposed new department of health for the national government, "would be a dumping ground of faddists, extremists and radicals." This is in a measure also true of the department of education proposed by the national government.

It has come to be a fad with many that as soon as states have refused to take up some of these extreme ideas, to call upon the federal government for action. Most of it is in direct violation of the constitution and its purpose is to break down whatever there remains of the democratic idea on our republican form of government. One of these conspicuous failures under a centralized government is the laxity of federal prohibition enforcement. We must have a freedom in medicine without imposition of grinding restrictions in favor of any school or organization which is implied in the federal welfare department. We object most strenuously to the suggestion by self appointed superior human beings that what we need is more paternalism in law. We have enough regulation and plenty of

DEVELOPMENT OF CREDIT
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.
Washington.—The use of money—both as coinage and as paper currency—came about as a result of public confidence and common consent that certain media should be regarded as having value and it may be observed that as experience accumulates, people are acting more and more in precisely that spirit of confidence and making use of an intangible belief in the maintenance of measures of value rather than tangible articles themselves. This is especially true in the United States.

American business men are learning that credit is worth more than money and today the great bulk of the nation's business is done with credit as the medium of exchange and not actual cash. The amount of money in circulation in the United States totals but $4,500,000,000. Yet every week at least $30,000,000,000 of value is spent, that is, changes hands through the medium of the banks alone. The hand to hand transactions amount to a vast additional amount. The fact that from six to perhaps ten times the amount of the face value of money in circulation is spent every week is due to the existence of credit.

This credit of confidence is of two sorts—the belief that people actually will pay debts contracted by them, and, second, the belief that slips of paper are, indeed, as good as cash. The increased use of the bank check has been a phenomenon of American finance. No other country in the world uses the bank check to as great an extent as the United States. Nearly all transactions, even small ones, are done by check. A man writes a few words on a piece of paper and it becomes as good as gold. True, some checks are issued by persons who are not worth the paper they are written on, but the spurious paper is negligible. It is the rare exception when the bit of paper is found to be worthless, and the American people have gained so much confidence in this convenient method of exchanging values that checks are taken freely by everyone.

Credit goes further than the mere acceptance of the check. The check itself is based on credit. It is entirely possible for more checks to be drawn on a given bank in any one day than that bank has money. This is possible because as people are drawing checks on a bank other people are depositing checks in that bank. The operations are largely on paper. Figures are set down on ledgers showing that so much has been drawn out and so much deposited. Very little actual cash may move in or out. The business is done on the basis of confidence in the value of the slips of paper.

When a man borrows money at a bank he very seldom takes the actual cash out of the building. It remains there on deposit. What he has borrowed is not actual cash, as a rule, but merely credit. The bank believes his promise to pay is good for, say, $1,000. Therefore it agrees to pay checks drawn by him to that extent. Of course, at the agreed time, he must repay.

Many times the amount of business which could be done by cash can be done through the use of credit. Just as the invention of money as a medium of exchange was a tremendous stride over the actual exchange of cattle and grain in primitive barter form, so the use of credit is a stride ahead of coins and even paper currency.

J. P. Morgan, one of the most famous financiers who ever lived, testified before the Pujo Money Trust investigation that personal character of the borrower was the final test which guided him in his banking operations. He said that men whose character he mistrusted could offer him the best security in the world but he would not lend them money because they did not have good enough credit with him. Others he said could borrow $1,000,000 without any security, but the pledged word.

Charles W. Morse, a bankrupt and a convict, upon being pardoned, went to Boston where he was well known and borrowed $2,000,000 on his unsecured note because a great bank there had confidence in his intentions to pay back the money. He did pay it back. To be sure good intentions are not all that make credit. Ability must be present also but with most bankers the honest man of medium ability has better credit than an extraordinarily shrewd man with a tainted business reputation. Character and credit are synonymous terms in the world of money.

The whole value of currency relates to these same rules as applied to nations. The American dollar is at par all over the world because the world knows that the United States will pay its obligations. The gold or its equivalent in value is back of every American issue. The German mark depreciated because the gold reserve behind it disappeared and because it became clear that it could not possibly be the intention of Germany to pay par on the billions of marks issued. Confidence and therefore credit disappeared also to the vanishing point. The same was true of the Russian ruble, further complicated in this case by the belief of other countries that the Russian bolsheviks had no intention whatever of redeeming their promises. The Germans and other Europeans were forced by adversity, to some extent, into a position where their promises no longer were good. It was generally believed throughout the world that the Russians deliberately issued worthless money, having no intention of making it good.

SPRING FEVER.
It's getting on to last days of
Days of dreams and sweet desires,
Days of sunny open ways
And the smell of campers' fires.
Days when I shall sit here wishing
I were somewhere idly napping.

True it is, as sagas tell us,
Work is every man's salvation,
But no motto can compel us
To shut out the world's temptation;
Dreams will take me while I'm writing
Far away where fish are biting.

I can't help it that I'm lazy,
That my thoughts from duty wander,
And the deeds I do seem crazy—
Streams have called my spirit yonder.
It is idle to upbraid me for this,
That's the way the Good Lord made me.

HOROSCOPE
THURSDAY, MAY 1, 1924.
Astrologers read this is a fortunate day in which friendly stars hold sway. Neptune, Jupiter and Uranus are all in benefic aspect. The planetary government favors big business and those who wield power through wealth. The rule is an auspicious one for those who hold high place politically and desire to keep it.

Neptune gives promise to all who represent properly that the public mind will incline to judge leniently all who have trafficked in government lands or the products of those lands. Reformers may take heart, for the stars indicate the rich are mighty. There will be strong political opposition to idealism in the national campaign.

All the signs appear to indicate that judgment at this time will be swayed by propaganda cleverly circulated by unseen forces of foreign origin. This should be a lucky day for starting ocean voyages or journeys that have as their aim some high purpose. Education is subject to the best possible direction of the stars and colleges should benefit greatly while this configuration prevails.

Interest in aviation will continue to be keen while Uranus is in kindly way and the United States government will benefit from the influence of this planet at this time.

Bankers, brokers, lawyers and clergymen are supposed to be especially helped by this position of the stars, which brings them big responsibilities.

It is a good rule under which to lend money, but better for those who borrow. According to ancient lore this day should be a most propitious one for proposing marriage, since it is supposed to bring about which is accompanied by a good-sized dowry.

Deans who have done by the stars the nursery of a year in which financial matters will be most satisfactory, but they should beware of fires and thieves.

Children born on this day probably will be exceedingly kind and generous. These subjects of Uranus are usually faithful, friendly, loyal and helpful. Girls should succeed best in whatever is essential to feminine employment.

Personal Health Service
By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author.
P. E. ARRIVES IN BRIDGEPORT.
The board of education of Bridgeport, Conn., has discovered that when a pupil's progress in school depends on physical as well as on mental fitness for promotion, those branches of education which have to do with the training of the body below the eyebrows are taken seriously by pupils, parents and teachers. For three years now Bridgeport has had a physical requirement as well as a mental requirement for promotion in school. One instance, one of the definite standards fixed for promotion from the fifth to the sixth grades has been a clean mouth with no unfilled cavities in the teeth, and as a result of this requirement nearly 100 percent of the children came up for examination for promotion to the sixth grade with sound teeth. That's just one point, but it means a great deal for the future health of the community.

A different requirement is now provided for promotion in every grade from the first to the eighth, and under the new plan a pupil's failure to meet the physical test counts as a failure in a major subject, and failure in any two major subjects prevents promotion. Consequently the pupils are going to take exercise as seriously as they do geography, and so are their parents, and so are the teachers in general.

This is a great advance in education, and Bridgeport is to be congratulated. In most communities in New York state, for example, no school credits is allowed for the time a pupil devotes to physical work in no particular degree, and is not for promotion. It is no paradox, but the sad truth, that one will find more evidence of the neglect of this side of education in the public schools than anywhere else today.

In Bridgeport, where education is beginning to go deeper, all girls, beginning in grade six, must receive instruction in physical education. It is compulsory for promotion; in grade eight they must take a course in infant feeding which includes milk modification; junior high school girls and seniors must take courses in prenatal, infant and preschool feeding. No matter what general high school course they may elect, Goshomighty, it begins to look as though they were getting right down to education in better future wives, mothers and citizens than have been trained on algebra, Caesar or Shelley.

Dandelions.
Our youngest daughter, 15 years old, has beautiful spun, gold hair reaching to her waist. She suddenly finds she wants to have it bobbed. The hair is so long it is changing a fly into a dandelion. — (M. E. G.)
Answer: Well, how likely does she value her hair? If she does not value it, then why not try bobbing her hair to keep her hair out? Say when she gets the cut she can stop this dandelion. Yes, if your hair is no shorter than.

Go On In.
My father thinks everything you say is just right—he could hardly have more faith in anybody than he has in you. All my friends are looking to swim, and I have always heard it is healthy to swim, but my father about refuses to let me go swimming. I thought if you would write an article about it, it might convert father. Mother would let me go if father agreed. — (M. E. G.)
Answer:—It is a fine, healthy exercise, after all, and it is so good for you. Tell father I say it is necessary part of a good education that you should learn to swim. I can understand why he is so unreasonable about it, provided the swimming facilities are all right.

I am interested in an article I saw in your column one day relating to the effect of cooling and freezing on the appetite and digestive organs of a child. I'd like a clipping of it. — (G. H. A.)
Answer:—I do not recall such an article. But it is so, let the poor kid eat in peace. If you are worried about a child on a full stomach—or spank him there. And always keep a child's stomach comfortable with nothing in the appetite except pop, hot dog and castor oil.

Cut this program out. It will not appear again.

Q. When living in the country with no underground water pipes, how can one make a good ground connection for a radio? H. S.
A. Such a connection can be made by driving an iron pipe into the ground about six feet.

Q. What country in South America has no seaport? A. B. D.
A. Neither Bolivia nor Paraguay has a sea coast or seaport.

Q. What is the symbolism of the memorial windows in the national Red Cross building in Washington, D. C.?
A. The left window, a gift of the Women's Relief corps of the north, represents St. Philomena, famed for her miraculous powers of healing, with her hands joined in prayer and a cross shield. Behind her are her maidens; Hope, bearing a banner; Faith, a torch; Mercy, a flagon of wine; and Charity, a basket of fruit. The right window, a gift of the United States Daughters of the Confederacy, shows Umi, of Benser's "Pearle Queen," typifying fortitude, her apron spilling roses, symbols of good deeds. The central window was a joint gift of the two organizations. It shows a good Samaritan in armor—the Red Cross knight—and typifies the Red Cross in war.

Q. Will you be so kind as to tell me of the history of the Chief Menteur? H. N. G.
A. The first known as Chief Menteur has figured fabulously extensively in Louisiana history. In regard to the naming of the fort, the following legend is told: "The Choctaws were conspicuous for their love of truth, but one of the chiefs was known to prevaricate frequently. He was exiled and settled on an isthmus projecting into Lake Pontchartrain, which therefore was called 'Chief Menteur,' which is French for 'Lying Chief.'"

Q. Can I make rubber trees in this country? E. J. J.
A. The department of agriculture says rubber trees will not flourish in this country and that experimentation along this line is not worth while.

Q. Will gold fish that are kept in a bowl spawn? G. W. G.
A. Gold fish will not breed in small aquariums. It is necessary to provide a five or six gallon tank and plenty of plant life for the fish to lay eggs and care for the young.

Q. What is the accepted distance for a par 4 hole at golf? G. A. T.
A. Any distance up to an including 220 yards is a par 4. 225 to 445 yards, par 4 to 600, par 5; above 600, par 6.

Q. Where do most of the foreigners go who come to this country? G. G. G.
A. During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923, New York state received the largest quota of immigrants, a total of 130,121. This was followed by Massachusetts with 41,602.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl in my teens and have been going with a boy two years my senior so several months. I dearly love this boy, but he doesn't believe it. He says all the other girls and "comptons" are just like him. I don't get angry, then. After a while we made up, and he promised he would never go again, but he did. He left and went to another town with his parents and was with another girl. I was full of me of going with boys when I didn't want to. Please advise me what to do. Should we break up or not? I don't see how I could get along without him.

Yours truly, MARY.

You have made a great mistake in letting the boy know how much you care when he goes with other girls. I think you should tell him that you have no right to object to his friendships and he has no right to object to yours. The matter will work itself out if you simply wait and let him find out for himself. In case the boy asks to see you again, let him come and do not refer to anything that will only cause trouble and misunderstanding. Of course if he asks to move and does not try to see you again, the only thing for you to do is to let him go. To try to get him to come back would be reminding after him and you would gain nothing by your effort.

Premature Old Age of Women

It is no secret that so many women suffer from ailments peculiar to their sex. Dark circles appear under the eyes, a pale, drawn, haggard expression to the countenance, and the weakness which accompanies such ailments is evidenced by the lagging step, headaches, backache and nervous conditions. Every woman who is afflicted in this way should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for half a century has been overcoming some of the most stubborn ailments of women.
